Day of Prayer For Conference

Churches Open For Populace To Meditate

Churches of Upland are calling upon all local citizens to pause in prayer tomorrow, the opening day of the United Nations conference at San Francisco, and the ministerial union has appointed a committee of pastors to arrange suitable services to commemorate the occasion.

Throughout the nation the historic event has been designated as International Week and high governmental offices have beseeched the people and the churches to give special prayers for peace and harmony among the nations, both for the conference and the early end of the war.

In Upland a committee from the ministerial union, composed of Rev. Clarence E. Reynolds, Rev Jesse Lady and Rev. Earl Salzman has been appointed by Rev. Samuel Hughes, president of the organization.

Rev. Reynolds, chairman of the committee, today announced that all churches in Upland will be open all day tomorrow for prayer and meditation. The doors of the churches will open at 8 a.m and will remain open throughout the day and through the prayer hour in the evening. Copies of the prayer for the day along with devotional books will be available.

St. Mark's Episcopal church announces Holy Communion by the rector starting at 9:30 tomorrow morning. At this time the church will ask those gathered to bow in prayer for the success of the San Francisco conference. In the late afternoon St. Mark's will hold services at 4 o'clock with the Right Reverend W. Bertrand Stevens bishop of the diocese of Los Angeles. He will preach at these services and also administer the sacrament of confirmation. Special music will mark this occasion.

It is understood that the schools of Upland will also pause for a few minutes in commemoration of International Week tomorrow. The San Francisco conference's outcome spells much for the future of these students in Upland schools and because it occurs during Public Schools Week, the educational institutions are being asked to make reverence a part of the week's program.

PRAYER

Feeling that universal prayer is called for with the opening of the Security conference in San Francisca tomorrow, the Upland Ministerial union has formulated the following prayer as an aid to all people. It is designed to be used in the home and in the church "in upholding and undergirding the conference":

PRAYER

Almighty God, our Father, Ruler of nations and the Guide of the destiny of men through Thy son Jesus Christ our Lord. We give Thee hearty thanks for the counsel and comfort of Thy Holy Spirit: And for the promise of forgiveness, when we came in the confession of our sins and sincere repentance. We bring before Thee in humble supplication, this our beloved nation and those of our Allies now convening in San Francisco. Give to them, we pray, divine guidance and wisdom from above. Enable them to bring to full and complete fruition those things for which we have sacrificed so much and for which our sons have died upon the fields of battle. Help them in their deliberations to reach a common understanding on those great principles that will make for a lasting peace and a permanent order of world security. We here dedicate, we now surrender ourselves to those ideals and to the end of their accomplishment through Thy Holy Will as thou dost reveal it to us in Thy son Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Upland Legion Asks Parkside Veterans to Join

I. J. Linkey, commander of Upland Post of the American Legion, announces that the next post meeting will be held on Tuesday night, May 1st.

Important matters concerning post activities for the summer months and discussion of plans for the building program which calls for the construction of a living memorial here, are to come before the May 1st meeting.

An effort is being made by the post to increase the membership with the inclusion of a number of eligible veterans now residing in the Parkside housing project. The Upland legion post is extending a cordial invitation to these veterans to join the local service organization and it is expected that a number of them will affiliate within a short time.

Sunday Accidents Injure Two People

When a tire blew out, throwing the car out of control, Miss Marie Espinosa, of Los Angeles, was injured as the machine did a "nip-up" on Valley boulevard, east of Guasti, Sunday. She was not seriously hurt in the wreck and was not hospitalized according to state police.

Another accident Sunday, just east of Upland, on East Ninth street, caused the hospitalization of Sterling Quinn, Cucamonga. The California Highway Patrol officers in a report stated that a car driven by Scott Dunham, of Fontana, collided with another car driven by Sterling R. Quinn, Fifth and Cucamonga Sts., Cucamonga. Quinn was injured when the crash tossed him to the side of the car.

William Atchison, 279 North First avenue, entered San Antonio Community hospital Friday for medical care.

Candidates for May 18 Election

Candidates are lined up at the barrier for the school election to be held May 18th when school board positions will be filled in a number of communities of the West End.

The county school superintendent's office today announces the final list of candidates as follows:

J. E. Bailie, Fontana, and Frederick W. Dundas, Upland, for the Chaffey district board of education.

Donald R. Thompson for Ontario city school board.

Mrs. Ralph T. Mitchell for Upland district board.

Myron J. Gemmil for Monte Vista district board.

Andrew J. Signorio for Guasti district board.

Walter Blane Van Duzen for Chino district board.

Because of lateness in filing, the name of Levi Hirschler for Cucamonga Central school board, was not included in the list of candidates.

Mrs. Willis Robbins of Los Angeles is spending this week in Upland as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Deverts, at their home, 693 North Second avenue.

61 Families on Los Olivos List

Sixty-one applicants are seeking living accommodations in the Los Olivos housing project, according to figres given in the most recent report on this phase of the activity.

In the project are accommodations for 100 families. Just as soon as a "moving" notification is given by a tenant the officials take the next name on the long list of people wanting a place to live.

Indicative of the demand for houses here, it was reported that the project has leases signed far in advance—to become effective as soon as a vacancy occurs.

Complain German Prisoners Prowling

Residents residing near citrus groves where German prisoners of war have been engaged in picking have made complaints to the Upland police that some of the men are prowling in yards when the trees are too wet for picking.

Fire Siren Not To Broadcast VE-Day Victory

When VE-Day comes to pass there will be no raucous, blatant blowing of the city's fire siren, according to orders received today by Howard C. Paulin, Upland fire chief, from the commanding general of the Western Defense Command. Plans had been tentatively laid for a special signal of the siren to announce to the countryside the unconditional surrender of Germany, but for security reasons this will not happen.

The order received today by Fire Chief Paulin says: "The Commanding General orders that in view of the fact that a number of communities in California depend on a distinctive signal from their fire sirens, whistles, horns, etc., for the purpose of air raid warning rather than an aid raid siren sound emitted from a device installed specifically for air raid warning purposes, the following policy is established relative to the use of all devices designated to sound air raid warnings within the Western Defense zone:

"a. No air raid warning signal device should be used in conjunction with any public celebration.

"b. Noise making devices such as sirens, whistles, horns, etc., may be used for the sounding of any signal or alarm authorized by the community authorities provided that the signal prescribed for the announcement of an air raid is not used for any other purpose."

Under the above regulations Upland's siren may not be used, Chief Paulin said. Therefore, unless some other orders are forthcoming, the city's siren will not be used to broadcast the news that victory is at hand in Europe.

Unable to Get Bus Service for Housing Project

Efforts to extend the city bus service to the Los Olivos housing area were unavailing by the chamber of commerce committee, who met this morning with Howard Smith, manager of the Citrus Belt Lines, whose busses ply between Ontario and Upland.

Ernest Gibson, chairman of the chamber's transportation committee, stated that Mr. Smith was quite willing to give the service if it was at all possible, but because of restrictions placed on the line by the railroad commission it would be impossible to change the present schedule to include the Los Olivos and Parkside districts.

An effort is now being made to provide some other sort of bus service for the housing project.

I.O.O.F. To Enjoy Homecoming

Members of Euclid Lodge No. 68, I.O.O.F. will wend their way to the home of the order tonight for the annual homecoming festivities which start at 6:30 o'clock with a Swiss steak dinner. The dinner is being served at the lodge hall by a committee of the Silver Link lodge No. 254 of the Rebekahs. Mrs. Don Hill is chairman of the dinner committee.

E. A. Robinson, noble grand of the local Odd Fellows order, has appointed an efficient homecoming committee composed of Bill Goalby, chairman, A. J. Robinson, H. Washburn, Watts Cate and Niles Katt, to make the arrangements for tonight's big affair. Mr. Goalby said today that over 250 are expected to attend the dinner.

Upland's chief of police, Eugene L. Mueller, will be the principal speaker at the dinner.

The Rebekah lodge members will also be in attendance at the evening's festivities. A program of music is to be presented by pupils of the various teachers of Upland.

Card games will follow the dinner program and the fun will keep the hall lights burning until a late hour, according to the program chairman.

Ex-Jap Prisoner To Be Lions Speaker

Dr. Stanley Wilson, professor of chemistry at Pomona college, will speak on the "Drama of Internment" at the Upland Lions club meeting in the Upland Woman's club house at noon Thursday.

A prisoner of the Japs in China Dr. Wilson recently returned to this country.

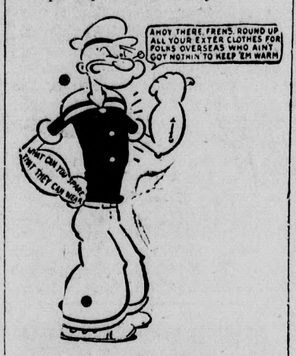

Uplanders Must Hurry to Reach Quota of 40,000 Lbs. Clothing

Sorters and packers of old clothing gathered in the Upland campaign to raise 40,000 pounds of garments, bedding, shoes, etc., have had many a hearty laugh over some of the articles sent in to cover the gaunt frames of the stricken peoples of Europe, Italy, South Pacific and other war victims, but the laugh is only a fleeting one with these willing laborers, for they know fulwell just how much these articles are needed.

The very lives of these multitudes depend on the prompt filling of their clothing needs and Upland is heeding the call in a fine way. Howard C. Paulin, campaign director, said today that much more will be needed to complete Upland's quota and again makes an earnest plea to citizenry to dig deep and bring in at once all available articles for this drive. They may be left at Los Olivos, the postoffice, A. A. Atwood company or the fire hall.

In the five harsh, horror-filled years which have passed since the time the Nazis and Japs invaded the homes of these peoples, the garments of the oppressed millions have worn thinner and thinner. Here in Upland there are still many pieces of clothing, bedding, shoes, etc., that can be pressed into overseas service, perhaps to save a life, but at least to relieve intense suffering from cold.

"We need these old clothes, bedding and shoes this week," said Mr. Paulin today. "The drive ends April 30 and that is close at hand. Upland cannot be found wanting in this worthy cause. Bring in those old clothes today and if you cannot possibly reach a collection depot, please telephone 317-140 and we will call at your home for the pickup. Do it today!"

Inductees on Way for Exams

Over fifty inductees were gathered in front of the Selective Service office this morning to board a special bus which carried them to Los Angeles for pre-induction physical examination. This was one of the largest groups to leave the Upland area and Ninth street, near the postoffice, took on a warlike atmosphere as the men waved goodbye to friends and relatives who gathered to see them off.

But it was only "goodbye" for just a few hours, as the men will be returned to their homes following the physical. Results of their examination will be relayed later to the local draft board office and the men in turn will be notified of the results and their classification.

Many of the men called today were on the border line of the draft age.

Shaffer Hearing Set for May 24

Judge F. H. Jacobs, of the Upland justice court, today continued the hearing of Bert Shaffer, charged with theft from the person of A. C. Duncanson on April 6, to May 24 because of the inability of Duncanson to appear in court because of his serious physical condition.

Shaffer is being held in the Upland jail, being unable to furnish the set bail of $2,000. He is not charged with assault on the person of Duncanson, although the latter was evidently slugged on the occasion of the robbery, for he is still confined to the San Antonio hospital with a severe fracture of the skull, the blow he received from some unknown object having shattered the bones from ear to ear. He must remain in a prone position for another month, psysicians say, and therefore could not be removed to the local court to give his testimony in the case against Shaffer.

Because of insufficient evidence to substantiate the assault charge, and the fact that no weapon had been found with which the assault had been committed, it was impossible to charge Shaffer with the attack.

New Objection Delays Airport

Objections raised by H. K. Hemingway, manager of the Karakul Fur Farms, on Benson avenue have caused a delay in action of the San Bernardino board of supervisers in approving the plans of Dewey M. Cable to construct an airport west of Upland. Frank Mogle, chairman of the board, stated that an investigation is being made of the objections made by Mr. Hemingway to the airport construction.

Mr. Cable had expected approval of the airport, inasmuch as previous objections had been met by changes in the proposed construction. Flood control was one of the main objections made prior to Mr. Hemingway's complaint.

Bishop Stevens Here Tomorrow

St. Mark's day, Wednesday April 25, will be observed at St. Mark's Episcopal church by services at 9:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. At the morning hour there will be a celebration of Holy Communion by the rector.

The Rt. Rev. W. Bertrand Stevens, Bishop of the Diocese of Los Angeles, will preach at the service of evening prayer at 4 p.m. The bishop will also administer the sacrament of Confirmation. Choirmaster Herbert Gray has planned special music for the service, including the anthem, "God So Loved the World" by Stainer, and a solo by Norman Kelch, "The First Commandment."

Those to be confirmed include William C. Marks, Roland Post Janet Richardson and William L. Richardson, Jr.

$35 in Food Fund; Mrs. Smith Wins

Mrs. Charles E. Smith, 83 Euclid place, was awarded the $25 offered last night in the dividend day fund but the food fund is advanced to $35 this week because of "no winner' last Thursday.

Mrs. Smith's address is recorded on line 1, page 15 in The Upland News' complete directory. She had the sales slips dated Saturday, to qualify her for the award.

The food fund of $25 last week, is boosted by $10 for the total to be offered Thursday at 630 p.m.

Occupants of 1949 East Ninth street were not at home to receive the award last week.

All food stores advertising in today's Upland News are eligible to issue sales slips to customers on Wednesday and Thursday.

To be eligible to win, persons must have sales slips showing purchases of at least $1 during this week's "food days.'

Formal Dance at USO Wednesday Evening

The USO board will sponsor a formal dance for servicemen and junior hostesses Wednesday evening in the USO headquarters, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

X-Ray Unit Here May 7, 8 and 9

Mrs. Lloyd Gilmore, Upland school nurse, today announced the mobile tuberculosis X-ray unit is scheduled for Upland on May 7, 8, and 9. The unit will be stationed at the Upland elementary school and the first day will be devoted exclusively to the examination of school children. On the following two days, May 8 and 9 the townspeople are to be given X-rays.

Mrs. Gilmore asks that reservations be phoned in to the school, inasmuch as the limited time the unit will be in the city will necessitate the use of every available minute and with a reservation schedule it will be possible to handle a larger number of people.

Edmund Stevens Speaks on Russia Tomorrow Night

Edmund Stevens, known as "the roving reporter" of the Christian Science Monitor, will be speaker at the forum tomorrow night April 25, at the Chaffey civic auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Stevens will discuss Russia and answer that all-absorbing question, "What about Russia?" He is said to be qualified to speak upon that subject by reason of the fact that his travels have taken him to all parts of that country. He was interpreter and technical advisor for Winston Churchill Harriman and Wendell Willkie. Stevens knows Russia from within, he knows Stalin, the peasants, the leterati and the politicians. He knows the heart of Russia too—he married a Russian girl and brought her back to America.

In his address at the Chaffey auditorium tomorrow night Mr. Stevens should, if anybody can, interpret Russia from a clear perspective of world understanding.

Fine Response Shown in City Postcard Poll

Upland's postcard poll on the proposed purchase by the city of the property just south of the city hall for a park site and civic center is progressing nicely, according to City Clerk Cassell, who today said that many returns are being received. Response to the poll is heartening, indicating that the citizens are showing an interest in Upland's civic affairs.

The council may call a special session to determine the results of the poll so that action may be taken on the matter. The city planning commission will also make a recommendation to the council regarding the proposition.

Mather To Speak At Forum Meeting Monday, April 30

Wiley W. Mather, speaker at the next supplementary forum at the Merton E. Hill auditorium at Chaffey Monday night, April 30, will discuss the economic and social problems of the peace in particular reference to the agreements reached at the Bretton Woods conference. The discussion will also be relative to the San Francisco conference parley, which starts today.

Mr. Mather explains that the San Francisco parley is purely of an organizational nature, to give a working program so that a permanent peace may be reached.

Hemingway To Move Fur Store

"It is with regret we find it necessary to move our fur store to Ontario," Harold K. Hemingway, proprietor and aggressive leader in the Karakul industry, announced today.

He revealed that he had leased the building in Ontario formerly occupied by the Bank of America, Euclid avenue and B street.

This structure, much larger than the recently established fur store at 270 North Second avenue Upland, will provide ample accommodations for an enlarged sales room, service department and storage facilities.

Until the Ontario building has been remodeled and alterations completed, the business will be maintained at the 270 Second avenue address here.

"It was impossible to find in Upland a store building large enough to serve our rapidly increasing clientele," explained the Uplander.

"We will, however, maintain our residence and sales yard as at present, Benson avenue and Thirteenth street and all of our national advertising will list Upland as our home address," he emphasized.

What is regarded as the community's most outstanding and uniquely attractive store was opened by Mr. Hemingway several months ago. Sale of furs and of Karakul breeding stock has increased so rapidly, however, the pioneering businessman soon found his downtown Upland sales room too small.

He established the Karakul business only five years ago and he has gained national prominence.

Planning Body Meets Thursday

Refrigerator Looted As Back-door Thief Gets Meat, Milk

Nothing was left in the refrigerator at the Frank Tompkins home, 725 Washington boulevard, after an early Sunday morning caller.

Incidentally, the caller was not an invited guest. Instead, he made a back-door entrance and actually emptied the well-filled refrigerator. The loot included meat—Mr. Tompkins is proprietor of the Central meat market — milk, vegetables and the usual assortment of "left-overs."

Upland police were called to determine if any fingerprints were left as a clue to the identity of the visitor.

McFadden Store Leases Building

Sales floor space of McFadden's store will be doubled in size as the result of a transaction announced today.

I. T. McFadden, with a store at 364 Second avenue, has leased the adjoining structure at 274 Second avenue and at an early date alterations will be made to enable his store to include both addresses.

The 274 Second avenue address is now occupied by the Karakul Fur farm and as soon as Harold K. Hemingway moves to his new Ontario headquarters, McFadden's store will begin the expansion program.

Miss Nettie Stutzman has purchased from Don E. Palmer the store building at 274 Second avenue and the lease for occupancy of the building was made between Miss Stutzman and her brother-in-law, Mr. McFadden.

"We sincerely appreciate the fine patronage our store has enjoyed," Mr. McFadden said today. "In recent years our major effort has been to obtain wanted merchandise for our customers. We are constantly seeking to get as much of everything as possible.

"In order to better serve the public and to provide more facilities for our customers, we are preparing to expand our store."

Nearly six years ago Mr. McFadden established the store bearing his name. Due to the steady increase in business and to the bright prospects for the future, he negotiated for lease of the building. Removal of the Karakul store to Ontario makes possible Mr. McFadden's expansion program. No date for occupancy of the leased quarters has been announced.

Extravaganza Set for May 4

After one postponement, interest has been whetted to a keen edge for the show date of the Chaffey Extravaganza, which will be on the night of May 4. S. Earle Blakeslee, general production director, has assembled an array of talent and prepared a program of entertainment eclipsing all previous events.

Chaffey organizations taking part are: W. H. Kegley's second period class, Dorothy Baker's English class, the drill team, Charm choir, burlesque ballet, folk dancers' club, Miss Fishback's dancing group, advanced girls' glee club, dramatics class, and the mixed chorus.

Frank Lento, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lento, 102 Parkside, was given emergency treatment Saturday at San Antonio Community hospital for cuts on his hand which he received on a radiator.

Zoning Changes Affecting City To Be Discussed

Many matters of great importance to the future of Upland will come before the city planning commission at the meeting to be held in the council chambers on Thursday evening, April 26. Zoning changes, 19 in all, will come before the commission for action and it is expected that a large number of Upland citizens will be present to offer arguments pro and con regarding the matters.

Re-zoning of portions of Foothill boulevard will be brought up by the commission and a study of the proposal to change parts of that area from business to agricultural or residential classifications has been made by Charles W. Eliot, planning commission engineer, and Richard G. Manley, city manager.

It is reported in their recommendation that business should be confined on the boulevard to the district between a point east of Campus avenue and a point west of Fifth avenue. Owners of business properties on Foothill boulevard outside that area plan to attend the April 26 meeting to express their views and opinions.

Another matter to come before the commission is the zoning of the area along the Santa Fe tracks from Euclid avenue westward to the city line for residence or agriculture. City Attorney Edward E. Gray has announced that under the present city law anyone desiring to have changes made in the zoning law must make applications in writing and pay a $10 fee, which the commission uses to defray advertising and other costs. Contemplated changes are then advertised, after which two public hearings are held. Then the city council must hold a public hearing before the change can be made.

Packing companies today became aroused about certain zoning matters to be considered Thursday night and have appointed a special committee to appear before the commission to make objections to proposed changes. The groups claim that certain contemplated zoning changes would seriously interfere with their packing houses already established below the Santa Fe tracks.

Strict zoning proposals would affect the churches and other public buildings. It is proposed that no church, or other public or semi-public building may be constructed in the agricultural or residential zone without first securing the consent of the planning commission. Then if permission is granted the parties concerned must provide parking space and see that traffic hazards are eliminated.

Wiley W. Mather and Mr. Manley were appointed some time ago by Frank Davis, planning commission chairman, to confer with Beulah college officials and make a detailed study of their request for zoning changes in that area which would provide for suitable expansion. The study has resulted in a recommendation to change all territory in the Blakeslee subdivision from agriculture to residence.

A suggested change calls for the allocation of a lot at the southwest corner of Campus avenue and East Ninth street for light manufacturing purposes. The lot is now in the residential zone.

Regulation of auto trailer locations, limitation of the establishment of rabbitries, goat farms and piggeries will also come up at the commission hearing. Multiple residence properties, zoning of the area between First and Second avenues and between D street and the Pacific Electric right-of-way for park purposes are other important matters which will occupy prominent spots in Thursday night's meeting.

All Upland residents are invited to attend this important meeting of the planning commission and the session will start at 7:30 p.m.

It is emphasized that the planning commission does not necessarily recommend the changes that are proposed in the zoning law. From time to time, various individuals have suggested changes. In order to get the public's reaction, all the proposed changes are listed in the agenda for the public hearing.

"Eyes of the World Are Centered on San Francisco"

This week the representatives of the nations are gathering in San Francisco.

It is trite to say that the eyes of the world are on San Francisco. But that is a fact. Gathered with the delegates are the hopes of humanity for a lasting peace.

It is hardly possible that a formula for a permanent peaceful world can be worked out at this one conference. It is possible, however, that in view of the progress already made in the previous conferences that further progress can be realized.

Actually, the diplomats who gather in the city by the golden gate cannot "build" the peace as one might erect a building. They can only seek to establish the proper political and economic "climate" in which the desire for peace —which has already grown up in the hearts of men—may be brought to fruition.

It should be remembered, however, that no matter how successful the conference may be, its results are not likely to completely satisfy every nation. Concessions must be made by all. No one nation—great or small—can expect all others to conform to its views.

The problems which the conferees face are multiple and complex. President Truman declared in his speech to congress: "The responsibilities of the great states is to serve and not to dominate the peoples of the world".

If this idea is adhered to by the reperesentatives of Britain, Russia and the United States, it will go a long way toward speeding the establishment of a "climate" for an enduring world peace.

Scarcity of Help Rather Than Surplus After War, Is President's Prediction

A manpower shortage, rather than a surplus, is a reasonable expectation after the war, President Truman believes, making a forecast before fate elevated him to the White House.

About six million people may be expected to leave the nation's labor force when victory comes, he estimates, while only four million veterans will be ready to step into their places.

Approximately two million will be self-employed as doctors, lawyers, farmers, etc., while another two million will return to school. More than one million have special positions waiting for them and two million will remain in military service or be replaced by others.

We can only hope that the new president's guess is better than those of some of his official family.

Civic Center Park, New Library Favored

By Mrs. F. H. Manker, Librarian

As Librarian for over 30 years and a tax payer for close to 50 years in the city of Upland, I feel that I should like to say a few words about the proposal of a possible park below the city hall, as well as a new library building.

Books tell us of the past, books tell us of the future and books bring to us the things of the present, but buildings — period!

There are people who think that we need a new library, but, on the whole, they are people who never use the library and further know nothing of what is offered there in the way of service or books. They also do not know that the library is so crowded for shelving space that the lobby, which should be a dignified, friendly place—a welcoming place—is in fact anything but that. The desk has had to be moved right to the door, the book stacks have encroached upon available space and a big table takes so much of the remaining part of the lobby that it has the effect of making one feel that one must hurdle the table in order to reach an objective.

When the library was first opened in 1913, there were but 1200 books on the shelves. The big tables, surrounded by chairs, had ample room for all who wished to read or study. Now a good half of the main floor is given over to stacks, and even then books have to be placed on the very tops of these, out of reach of everyone.

The tables are shunted as close together as possible, with barely enough room to get around them. If it were not for the smiling attendants at the desk, people would be tempted to go back down the 16 steps they have so painfully climbed to get to the door. Believe me, many of our elderly borrowers have had to give up going to the library just because of those same steps. Why should they not be considered in building a library? After all, the library is for the adult what the school is for the juvenile—an educational institution.

If our city council had not been far-sighted enough to go ahead regardless of what people say, they probably would still be meeting in the old Ruedy house or down in the jail. If a wing should be added to the library, it would still be "up in the air," and we as a city could be classed with the "has beens," two of which are not far from here although Ontario is planning to build a modern library and the other one has had its face lifted. Why should Upland hold back?

As far as location is concerned, as librarian, I would like the building to be even nearer the center of town than it is now. A small park and the library near where people who are working or shopping, could run in and rest a few minutes and read the papers or magazines. Instead of getting further away, I favor getting as near the center of town as possible.

As a part of the general public, I have enough pride in the "Biggest Little City in San Bernardino County" to be willing to pay my share of the taxes towards a green spot, handy to town, and a new library building, both dreams of mine. Although taxes have risen 50 per cent, quoting from a recent letter published in The News, wages have also gone up and up with the possible exception of librarians' salaries, which have always been notoriously low. In fact, in Upland, enough has been saved on salaries to build a goodly share of a new building.

Because of the centrally located city hall, I think the library should always be near it. With a green spot for rest and beauty close by, what more could one desire? If a big park is needed, other civic buildings could be placed there, even though some distance away, but the library—never.

Upland Karakul Growing Industry Attracting National Attention

Hemingway's Famous "Black Sheep" Target for News Photographers

Anything milady places on her pretty torso in the way of wearing apparel is always headline picture news to the camera eye of syndicate photographers. For that reason the newspaper "photogs" have been making regular calls at the Karakul Fur farm of Harold K. Hemingway, Upland's nationally known breeder of these "black sheep". The karakul fur, emanated from the backs of Hemingway sheep, is in great demand in the swankiest fashion centers of the world and as a result the publicity spotlight of the nation has been focused upon this unusual Upland industry.

Acme, one of the largest news picture syndicates in the country, sent a crew of cameramen to the Hemingway fur headquarters, which is located at Benson avenue at 13th street. The "shutter-eye" boys had a field day there and among the several thousand sheep at the Riverside ranch. They obtained some shots which were sent broadcast over the country and to all parts of the world. Mr. Hemingway is today beginning to receive "tear sheets' from newspapers published in widely separated sections of the country proving that the subject matter of the newsmen was decidedly popular.

Full credit for the development of this amazing industry can be placed squarely upon the shoulders of Mr. Hemingway. Up until about six years ago he knew nothing of the business which he today manages and directs. He had been born on a farm at Mt. Vernon, Washington, in 1905. Although taking up salesmanship, Mr. Hemingwaay always had a "hankering" to get back to the farm. Thus in 1938 he started his Karakul venture with the purchase of five ewes. He placed them on a five-acre plot near Upland and today has about 2,500 black sheep running on 2,800 acres of land near Riverside.

His Karakul Fur store in Upland, 270 North Second avenue, is the mecca for buyers from all points of the compass.

The beautiful fur and the Hemingway project has just been made the topic for a feature article in "G. I. Opportunity", a new publication which is being circulated among returned service men.

All of these 2,500 sheep, however, do not belong to Mr. Hemingway, for some are "boarders". These are owned by other investors who have been given a chance to share in Mr. Hemingway's enterprise. They merely buy the number of sheep they can afford and turn them in among Hemingway's flock. These sheep are boarded, bred, sheared and marketed by the Karakul Fur farm.

Here in Upland, Mr. Hemingway maintains fine showrooms where the finished products of the fur are exhibited, such as Karakul woolen blankets, Karakul woolen cloth for men's and women's clothing, and the genuine Karakul or "Persian lamb" furs so desired by the women of fashion.

In the April issue of "Your Farm", a national magazine, there appears another feature story about the Karakul industry as it is operated by the Upland resident.

Scripture Used To Evoke Interest In Clothes Drive

Chaffey junior college students are devoting much time to the old clothes drive for the destitute peoples of the wartorn countries, but this week a single poster in the halls of the institution makes an eloquent appeal with the use of a scriptural passage.

The poster, placed in a prominent hallway, bears the five-word biblical quotation from Matthew 25:36, which says: "Naked, and ye clothed me."

Upland saw a real traffic jam last night at about seven o'clock when a long freight train on the Pacific Electric tracks became stalled in the heart of the city because of a defective air brake. The train blocked crossings at Second, Third, Euclid and Campus avenues.

Cars were lined up on both sides of the train for several blocks at all the crossings and it was some time before the train could be broken to enable the passage of traffic.

Railroad Noises

An editorial from the San Jose, California, "Evening News". (San Jose is on the main line of Southern Pacific's Coast Line)

WE HAVE always resented those snooty expressions, "across the tracks" or "down by the tracks," with their implication that there was something disreputable and socially low-life about living near railroad tracks. After living many years a block from the Espee's rails, we rise to say that there are many worse places to live.

Living close to the railroad has its obvious advantages when you are a boy. Where is there a more romantic place than the right of way, with wheezing switch engines, puffing freights (which travel so much faster now than they used to) and speeding passenger trains? Morning, noon and night railroading holds attraction for a boy, which is why so many of them go into it, finding a romance which never dulls until they die.

"But how can you stand the noise?" someone asks.

Far from being bothered by the noises, you get so you find them soothing and conducive to repose. You get so you can tell the freight trains from the passengers, and you distinguish the touch on the whistle rope of that individualistic engineman who makes his blasts so short, sharp and distinctive.

The various whistle notes represent to you these giant creatures of fire and steel talking to one another over long distances and on winter nights, when the wind is blowing and the rain is pelting against the windows it is pleasant to think of engineer and fireman, snug in their cab with the fire roaring below them, shunting lines of cars up and down the glistening wet tracks.

If these night noises from the tracks are comfortable and appealing to you during peace they have even more of these qualities during war. You realize that both the wars in which we are engaged are transportation wars and must be won not only in the foxholes and workshops but on the railroads as well. Some of the particularly long trains you hear puffing and snorting these nights are troop trains and others are weighed down with war's materiel. It is comfortable to reflect what a great job the railroadmen are doing, driving their trains and switching their cars 24 hours a day, even while you are asleep.

Back a few years, when trucks and buses started to cut more and more deeply into railroad revenues, with the airplane as an additional competitor just ahead, as a boy living near the tracks you may have wondered a little worriedly if they would put your old friends, the freights and passengers, out of business. It took the war to show that a nation's need of railroads continues, that no nation can be great and strong without them. You are reassured by that, and by the articles and drawings that have been published of vastly improved equipment which will help the railroads get their share of traffic after the war. Such things mean your friends will be able to stay alive and that, drowsily safe and comfortable, you will continue to hear the trains chugging and puffing through the night.

* * * *

We thank the San Jose News for so beautifully putting into words the way we railroaders, and many other people, feel about trains. 1768

Interest at High Peak For Invitational Meet Saturday

Fischer Says Many Schools To Be Present

An idea, the germ of which originated in the minds of Principal Ernest W. Fischer, Chaffey high school principal, and W. H. "Pop" Kegley, track coach, has developed to such proportions over a period of 20 years that next Saturday will again see the annual invitational track meet away to a real "running start".

Chaffey's outstanding athletic event of the season will be patronized this year by practically a 100 per cent entry list from all invited schools. Principal Fischer today stated that returns are rolling in quite satisfactorily, in fact ahead of the usual schedule, and nearly every school which has received an invitation to participate will be on hand at the starting gun.

Upland and Ontario businessmen contribute to the support of the meet and the fine cooperation given by them has made it possible to make suitable awards in the various track events. More than 100 sterling silver medals are to be given the winners.

Novice field events will start at 10 a.m. Saturday and are to be completed before noon. The open field events start at 1:30 p.m.

During the years of competition in this annual invitational meet the Tigers have been host to about 25 schools each year. Chaffey has captured the crown seven times—in 1929, 1931-33, 1935, 1937 and 1941. Each of those years the Tigers were awarded trophies for winning the top award.

The standing records of the open meet are as follows:

Cub Graduation Ceremonies Are Most Impressive

Cubmaster Eugene L. Mueller's staging of the Cub graduation ceremonies at the Upland junior high auditorium on Friday night had the real Hollywoodian touch and, with special lighting and scenic effects, the capacity audience witnessed one of the most impressive ceremonies ever presented in local Scoutdom.

Five Cubs received their certificates into the upper brackets of Scouting at the ceremony Friday night. They were: Leon Bolsta and Dick Loch, Den 4; Loren Brooks, Den 2; Bobby Robertson, Den 1; and Charles Olive, Den 9.

The "S.R.O." signs were hung up early in the evening by the ushers, who jam-packed late arrivals into the standee section.

The center attraction in the stage setting was a typical Hawaiian bridge, which had been constructed by Warren Wilkins, a real Scout father and one in whom Cubmaster Mueller had placed much dependence in the setting of the scene.

Many a tear was shed by Cub mothers as the ceremonies progressed and the lads, one by one, crossed the bridge from the land of Cub Scout to the realms of Boy Scouting, where they are expected to make enviable records in their new work. With the playing of "Aloha," Cubmaster Mueller handed the certificates to each boy, who then slowly walked across the span where he was received by Scout leaders and a group of his new companions.

Scoutmaster Harry Hixson welcomed Richard Loch and Leon Bolsta from Mrs. Alfred Bolsta's den. Scoutmaster Frederic W. Dundas, Upland Troop No. 1, received Loren Brooks from Mrs. Harry Baccigaluppi's den; Bobby Robertson, from Mrs. Homer Losson's den, and Charles Olive from Mrs. Harold Long's den.

Mrs. Marion Maxwell presented her new Cub chorus of 100 voices and their number was received with hearty applause.

Harry Cardin, well-known Chaffey impesonator, was on the program with some hilarious numbers which brought down the house.

Upland's Cub pack was honored with the presence of officials of Old Baldy council, headed by the chief executive, O. A. Alderson.

The guest list for the evening included: Assemblyman and Mrs. R. Fred Price, Supervisor and Mrs. William R. Mason, Mayor Eugene Nisbet and Miss Clara Lou Nisbet, Councilmen and Mesdames James Goodban, E. Tweed Stone, Ray Sherwood, Harry M. Wright, City Manager and Mrs. R. G. HOME AFTER LONG SERVICE

Gilbert Peers, 1375 Washington boulevard, returned today with a medical discharge after having served for nine years with the armed forces of the country. Part of those long years of service was with the navy and army artillery, but at the time of his discharge he was with the U.S. Engineers. He saw action at Saipan, the Philippines invasion, and was in on the Guam detail.

Peers was in the Aleutians when the going was rough and his stories of his action there seem almost as tough as the Iwo struggle.

IT will be the happiest day in Southern California history for we will welcome not only the hundreds of thousands of our own lads, but many thousands more from throughout the nation—boys who trained here or visited here on furlough. It will truly be a homecoming for all of them.

When they were here last, many of these boys whose homes are far away expressed the desire to return and make their permanent homes with us. We can think of nothing finer for Southern Californians than to have these "champs" as friends and neighbors.

We of Pacific Electric like knowing that our far-flung rail and motor coach service, reaching into more than 125 communities and blanketing our scenic and historic points of interest, permitted these boys to see Southern California while they were here. We like feeling that perhaps we may have been instrumental in showing them their homes or their jobs of the future.

Upland Observes School Week With Many Appropriate Programs

Junior High Dramatic Club Presents Play Friday Night

Public Schools Week, which started throughout the nation yesterday, was being fittingly observed in the educational institutions of Upland this week and will culminate Friday night with the presentation of a three-act comedy by a cast of the junior high school dramatic club at the Elementary school auditorium.

Chaffey college and high school carried on regular curricular activities with an accent being placed on wartime work during the week. The old clothes drive was stepped up with great impetus at both institutions and a fine collection of wearing apparel, shoes, bedding, etc., had been collected as a result of the special emphasis being placed on this activity.

SELL MANY BONDS

At the Chaffey high school today much time was devoted to the sale of war stamps and bonds. Tuesday was set aside as bond day for the week and because of the national attention being focused on Public Schools Week, the committee set forth to ring up new records in sales.

Ernest W. Fischer, principal of the high school, stated today that the students of his school have made a wonderful record in all bond sales and the "Minute Man" flag is still being flown there. To fly this emblem it is necessary that 90 per cent of the students participate in stamp or bond sales. The record this week was 94 per cent at Chaffey high school.

School officials at Chaffey are extending special invitations this week to parents asking them to visit the schools and see first-hand the activities being carried on there. Of course, patrons are always welcome at the schools but because of the national observance of the week it is urged that parents make it a point to visit the schools.

On Wednesday noon, the Upland Rotary club will hold the annual oratorical contest in which three Chaffey high school students will contest for the Crombie Allen award. Donald Jacobs, speech instructor at the school, has been holding elimination contests and the field has now simmered down to three. The Upland Rotary club at the noon meeting tomorrow acts as judges in the contest.

With the general public cordially invited to attend free of charge, the Upland junior high school dramatic club, under the coaching of Ernest R. Camfield, will present "The Saturday Evening Ghost", a three-act comedy, at the Elementary school auditorium on Friday night, April 27. Rehearsals for the play have been going on for several weeks and Mr. Camfield announces that the audience will view a finished production on Friday night. The comedy was written by Tom Taggart, a modern adaptation from the story by Oscar Wilde. Curtain time will be 8 p.m., and the public is asked to be on hand early to be seated for the performance. Following the performance, Mr. Harold Cook, superintendent of the elementary schools, will give a talk concerning school problems.

A tour of the Elementary class rooms will conclude the evening's program.

Athletic events for the week are certainly not neglected, for on Saturday, April 28, will be the annual Chaffey invitational track meet, which will attract cinder stars of many schools to this area for the competition.

Oranges, lemons and grapefruit sold through the Sunkist sales office in Dallas, Texas, last year, exceeded 800,000 boxes.

A news photo was received here this week showing an Upland veteran, T-5 James Brewer, husband of Mrs. James Brewer, 336 North First avenue. The Upland News received the photo from an overseas publicity office of his regiment and notified Mrs. Brewer by telephone that there was a picture here of her husband. The Upland veteran is shown repairing the axle of a truck somewhere in Europe. Brewer is with the 35th Infantry Division, Quartermaster corps, 9th U.S. Army.

Lt. Lyle Murkins, army air corps pilot, surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Murkins, of 558 East Ninth street, last evening, when he arrived by motor from Sedalia, Missouri, where he has been taking his final training before receiving an overseas assignment.

He has been in service for two years and before going to Sedalia was an instructor at Shaw field, South Carolina. He will be here about five days and will then report at Fort Wayne, Indiana, for his overseas orders.

Lt. Murkins, who made the trip west by motor, was accompanied by his wife and her sister, Miss Leota Shackelford, of Rush Springs, Oklahoma. After their visit here, Mrs. Murkins will go with her sister to Rush Springs, and will reside with her parents there.
